PATENT WROUGHT IRON
Enameled WATER PIPE.

This pipe is enameled under great heat, both inside and out, which gives it a hard jet gloss surface and preserves it from rust or corrosion. S. Dana Hayes, State Assayer and Chemist for the State of Massachusetts, says: "I commenced the investigation with some doubts about your Enameled Pipe, but the severe tests which I have employed prove that it is perfectly harmless, and possesses great durability, these being the properties of most importance in water pipes."

All sizes of this and plain pipe and fittings constantly on hand, and for sale at lowest market prices.

District Court of the United States,
District of Maine.

In the matter of SAMUEL B. STONE, JR., Bankrupt, IN BANKRUPTCY.

This is to give notice that a Petition has been presented to the Court, this 5th day of January, by Samuel B. Stone, Jr., of Bangor, a Bankrupt, individually and as a member of the firm of Stone, Mayo, Snow & Company, praying that he may be decreed to have a full discharge from all his debts, individual and copartnership, provable under the Bankrupt Act, and upon reading said Petition,

It is ordered by the Court that a hearing be had upon the same, on the first Monday of March, A. D. 1876, before the Court in Portland, in said District, at 10 o'clock A. M., and that the second meeting of the creditors of said Bankrupt, be held before Charles Hamlin, Esq., Register, on the 2d day of February, 1876, and the third meeting of the same on the 2d day of February, 1876, and that notice thereof be published in the Bangor Daily Whig and Courier and the Piscataquis Observer, newspapers printed in said District, once a week for three successive weeks, and once in the Weekly Bangor Courier, the last publication to be thirty days at least before the day of hearing, and that all creditors who have proved their debts and other persons in interest, may appear at said time and place, and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

DR. L. CHASE,
Analytical Botanic Physician.

Who formerly resided in Bangor, has returned and taken Rooms at

No. 8 Middle Street,

and would respectfully say, that he has had great experience in treating old and chronic diseases, in his eight years' absence, and will guarantee to perform a hundred per cent. more cures in Cancers, Humors, Tumors, Dropsy, Gravel, Catarrh, Lung and Liver Diseases, Fits, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Female Complaints, &c., &c., than he could possibly have done eight years ago.

IN CANCERS AND TUMORS

the Doctor claims superiority over all physicians of the age, for he never fails to perform a cure, when taken in a proper stage.

Dr. Chase boldly asserts that he can tell every individual their diseases and location of their pains, and describe their feelings, in almost every case, more minutely than they can possibly themselves. He is also

Moderate in his Charges,

That the poor as well as the rich may have the advantage of his skill, and in all cases where he cannot cure or give relief he will conscientiously refuse to treat them.

Let every one call and judge for himself.

Notice of Foreclosure.

Whereas Richard M. Woodman of Oldtown, in the County of Penobscot and State of Maine, conveyed to me, Charles D. Bryant of Bangor, in said County and State, by his mortgage deed dated February 4, 1862, recorded in Penobscot Registry of Deeds, Vol. 327, page [illegible], an undivided half part of the following lots or parcels of land situate in Greenbush, in said County, viz: Part of Mile Square Number One in Range One, bounded North by South line of Moses Webb's land, East by the East line of the Square, West by Card's Hedge road, South by a line drawn from side to side parallel with said Webb's line, and so far distant therefrom as to contain two hundred acres, being same conveyed to him by William H. Smith et als, by deed dated March 27, 1861, and recorded in Penobscot Registry of Deeds, Vol. 381, page 540. Also an undivided half of Block or Mile Square, Number Two, Range One, and all of Block Number Three in said Range, West of Olamon stream, except two hundred acres sold to Collins and Madigan, and all of Blocks A and B, on the West side of said stream, according to the plan of said town, said last described premises being the same conveyed to said Woodman by J. W. Richardson et als by deed dated March 27, 1857, and recorded as aforesaid, Vol. 286, page 555, and containing sixteen hundred acres, subject to the exception in said deed, reference thereto to be had, and whereas the condition of said mortgage deed has been and now remains broken, now by reason thereof I claim a foreclosure of said mortgage and give this notice for the purpose of effecting such foreclosure.

THE NEW REMINGTON
SHUTTLE SEWING MACHINES,

Manufactured at the Celebrated REMINGTON ARMORY, Ilion, N. Y., are the Latest and Best.

The REMINGTON SEWING MACHINES are rapidly becoming general favorites, wherever introduced. While it is not our purpose to underrate any other machine, we do claim that the REMINGTON is so complete as to overcome all the principal objections made against Shuttle Sewing Machines. That which has long been sought after by probably every Sewing Machine Company, has been obtained in the REMINGTON, namely: An even, round, bird's-eye stitch on all kinds of goods, coarse or fine, without the use of COG-WHEEL GEARS, ROTARY CAMS, or LEVERS; and smoothness, ease, and silence in working. Its perfection of Design and Manufacture makes it the simplest, the most speedy, the most durable in the market.

Manufacturers of Clothing, Shoes, etc., etc., will find just what they want in our No. 2 Machine, which is superior to all others.

All kinds of second hand Machines exchanged and sold on time, on the most reasonable terms. Perfect satisfaction guaranteed.

Feb. 1, 1876. 3

To the Honorable Judge of Probate for the County of Penobscot:

The undersigned, guardian of George S. Gilman, Hattie M. Gilman, Carrie M. Gilman and Fannie R. Gilman, minor heirs of Rufus H. Gilman, late of Corinth, in said county, deceased, respectfully represents that said minors are seized and possessed of the following described real estate, viz: The homestead of said deceased, situate in said Corinth; also, Wood Lot, so called, of about twenty one acres, including the reversion of the widow's dower therein to both parcels, it being the same described in deeds recorded in the Registry of Deeds for said County, running to said Rufus H. Gilman.

That it would be for the benefit of said minors that said real estate should be sold, and the proceeds thereof put out at interest, or otherwise used for their benefit.

She therefore prays that license may be granted her to sell and convey the above described real estate at public or private sale, according to the requirement of law.

The first lecture in Memorial Hall course, given by the professors and alumni of Bowdoin college, was delivered Thursday evening, in the Methodist church, by Prof. G. L. Vose. Subject, "Our Iron Roads." He treated the subject in a very pleasing and satisfactory manner, beginning with the earlier history of railroads, and coming down to the present perfected system. He very elaborately treated of the strength of the modern iron bridges and gave some good illustrations of the difficulties which engineers are obliged to undergo in their bridge work.

When Mr. Marriner of Portland, was injured on the Eastern road about a year ago his place was filled by Charles Palmer. Soon after taking the place Palmer lost two fingers on his right hand while slacking cars. Last fall he lost a finger on the left hand in the same manner. Last Friday he had the thumb on his left hand taken off. Dr. Bray was called and dressed the wound. SALMON CULTURE.

[From the Boston Post.]

The various Fish Commissions of the Eastern States are unanimous in giving their most careful attention and best efforts to the introduction of salmon in the lakes and rivers of the Atlantic Slope. The comparative scarcity that has prevailed of this delicious fish in New England markets has quickened the appreciation of the descendants of those who used to regard salmon with contempt and disrelish on account of its abundance in our waters. The long exile that has followed has stimulated new and more rational sentiments in regard to this delicate, nutritious, wholesome and easily developed source of food supply. The conditions of salmon growth are for the most part found in Eastern waters, and do not have to be made, and with the proper legal restrictions that shall prohibit pound fishing and other artificial obstructions to the natural laws of breeding and healthy development, there is no reason why every lake and river in New England should not supply the sections through which it passes and to whose industrial wants it ministers with an abundant and cheap supply of this delicious fish. Not a few of the salmon now found in Boston and New York markets are caught in Massachusetts Bay; while the enterprise of cultivating land-locked salmon is extending in this State, even as far as the towns of Berkshire country, with great success.

Connecticut possesses unusual facilities for bringing this branch of fish culture to perfection, and her record in this respect for the past year shows gratifying enterprise and progress. The waters that will nourish shad will perform the same service for salmon, and the vigorous growth attained by the former in the waters of the Connecticut, Housatonic and other rivers having their outlet in Long Island Sound affords the utmost encouragement for giving the latter every opportunity. There has been comparatively trifling loss in the eggs brought from the spawning fields in various parts of the country and deposited in the rivers of Connecticut for hatching. Under the supervision of Superintendent George Jelliffe a great work has been done at Westport in the four years ending Jan. 1, 1876. In that time considerable more than a million eggs were received from Bucksport, Me., from the United States hatching-house on the McCloud river, California, and from other sources. In October of last year 480,000 eggs were received from California. Of these, 12,000 were dead upon arrival, and the loss in hatching was 17,000, or less than four per cent—a better record than has been elsewhere made. The ease with which the eggs are hatched, even after coming from California, and the readiness by which the young salmon adapt themselves to the conditions into which they are born, shows that there are no inherent difficulties in the way of stocking the streams by this artificial process, which will soon give to the masses what is now the food of the rich alone.

A Contrast Worthy Public Attention.

What is the effect of a drastic purgative upon the constipated bowels and a dyspeptic stomach? The intestine is emptied so violently as to weaken and render it still more inactive, and the gastric juices vitiated by contact with an indigestible medicine, lose the chemical qualities which constitute them the only true solvents of the food. Results—aggravated constipation and chronic indigestion. What, on the other hand, are the effects of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters on the same organs? The bowels are relieved, but without violence, and at the same time acquire healthful tone, the gastric secretions are stimulated and improved, and duly perform their part in the process which eventuate in the nutrition of every part of the human structure. Results—a regular habit of body, sound digestion and vigor. Let the public draw its own conclusions from this contrast.

THE QUESTION OF WILKES BOOTH.

[From the New York Tribune]

When the Clerk of the House Committee on Ways and Means denied the other day that he had ever named a child John Wilkes Booth, we accepted his denial without reserve and promptly published it, though it was made in a rather suspicious and evasive manner. For our part we were glad to believe that the stories so widely circulated about this man were untrue,—glad for the sake of our country and of common humanity to believe that there was no one base enough to call a son after the assassin of Abraham Lincoln. But it seems that we were too ready to trust the father's denial. Some new testimony to the truth of the original report that we have been induced to make fresh inquiries, and the results satisfy us that whatever name the child may have received in baptism, if he received any, he was always known in the family as Booth. Gentlemen whose word cannot be doubted assure us that they have heard the father boast that he had a child named John Wilkes Booth. People [illegible] Atlanta assure us that the fact was notorious in that city. When the family were in Washington a few years ago the name was a common subject of conversation among those who came in contact with them. The child himself when asked his name always answered John Wilkes Booth. The child's nurse habitually gave him the name [illegible]. And the father confirmed all this testimony by acknowledging in his statement to the West [illegible] of the Tribune that the child was sometimes called Booth because a neighbor had a child called Abraham Lincoln. [illegible] acknowledgment which makes the matter too clear for doubt.

[illegible] What is to be thought of the Democratic leader of the House who takes this man out of his obscurity and holds him up to public view as a specimen of the Southern Democracy? Here is a man who has done what ought to exclude him forever from all decent society; a man who has gone out of his way in paying honor to a murderer [illegible] upon his [illegible] the most dastardly assassin in history; [illegible] close [illegible] malignant [illegible] and [illegible] hatred of his country [illegible] such a [illegible] [illegible] of the party [illegible] Lincoln's grave. Such a man is a traitor at heart and [illegible] No right thinking patriotic American can meet him on terms of [illegible]. But our Democratic friends [illegible] of the House of Representatives that they elect him [illegible] the United States for one of their most important clerkships. They [illegible] soldiers out of the [illegible] place [illegible] the Government has provided for them, and give an office to the [illegible] of Abraham Lincoln's assassin.

[illegible] of Ways and Means [illegible] No [illegible] not [illegible] although it would be strange if his general character and sentiments had not been known to those who appointed him. But there can be no excuse [illegible] this [illegible] there is question of a clerkship. The Democratic party is on trial. It [illegible] to give us [illegible] wisdom [illegible] or to make us forget how it treated Lincoln [illegible] his lifetime and how [illegible] a large number of its ablest and most [illegible] themselves [illegible] the crisis of the country's peril.

[illegible] Director of the Mint [illegible] that there will be no difficulty [illegible] the gold value [illegible] two per cent less than the gold value of greenbacks and if that is the case there [illegible] no danger that [illegible]. He has $12,000,000 on hand ready for [illegible] March [illegible] capacity of the [illegible] is $2,000,000 a month, which is sufficient to replace the whole of the fractional currency by the end of the present year. He also thinks that [illegible] would relieve the Government of [illegible] annual expense of $3,000,000 [illegible] the fractional currency. Of course in so doing it expends an amount equal to the value of the coin issued, but it must be remembered that it is in payment of an honest debt which has been long deferred.

Our Mexican neighbors have for some years been exempt from revolution and rebellion, the turbulent spirits who formerly kept the land disturbed by their factious movements having found more profitable business in stealing cattle from the ranches of Texas. Wearied of this comparatively tame business the raiders are uniting in an effort to revolutionize the Government, and all the Northern States of the country are disturbed by their operations. A defeated candidate for the Presidency of the country is credited with being the organizer of this rebellion, and if it succeeds it is likely to give him a position he has been unable to reach by the votes of his fellow citizens.

A special despatch from Berlin to the London Daily News says the report that Germany has declined to make any representation to Spain in regard to Cuba is incorrect. The German government has not answered the communication of the United States, which did not require or invite an answer, but there is every reason to believe that Germany is not unwilling to impress upon Spain the justice of the American complaints and the advisability of making some redress.

On Saturday there was a singular scene in the building occupied in Philadelphia by Messrs Moody and Sankey, the occasion being the auction sale of the effects. The prices realized by some of the articles were remarkable. A cheap carpet from Mr Moody's room sold for $75, two towels which had been used by Mr Moody sold for $5 each, Mr Sankey's bringing half a dollar more, Mr Moody's platform brought $125, and his chair $45; a chair used by President Grant brought $35 and Mr Sankey's $55. Other chairs used by various individuals brought equally fancy prices, and quite an amount must have been realized.

Civil service reform has been brought down to a fine point in Canada. About a month ago the Premier abolished the lunch hour, and compelled the clerks to attend at their offices from 10 to 4, whereupon they [illegible] their luncheons with [illegible] coffee in the offices with gas stoves. This has provoked another circular to the effect that gas is not furnished by the Government for cooking purposes.

JEFF. DAVIS' LETTER.

[From the Boston Journal.]

Mr Blaine was more successful in drawing out the ex-Confederate feeling of today than he had any reason to anticipate. Not only did he bring such Representatives as Ben Hill and Mr Tucker to their feet, against all the attempts of their Democratic associates to impose silence, but Robert Toombs down in Georgia, must needs repeat his old malignant antics, and now Jeff Davis himself cannot resist the summons to come forward to the bar of public opinion. It is a good sign to see these men so sensitive in spite of their assumed pride and self satisfaction. The strength of the impulse is the more remarkable in Davis' case that he does not appear after all to have brought forward any such original and valuable evidence as to have justified his breaking silence at this time. He professedly relies on "memory" for all the statements he makes in regard to the prisoners on both sides, but he merely reiterates, as to the most part, the assertions contained in Ben Hill's speech [illegible] which were conclusively refuted by Gen'l Garfield from the authentic documents in the case. If he has added any new matter it is not stated with sufficient fullness and definiteness to change in any degree the weight of the discussion as it was left at the close of the animated debate in the House.

As to Davis himself, however, and the class of men whom he represents [illegible] supplied the country with important and timely information. He shows that his own disloyal bitterness is still cherished with all the relentlessness of an [illegible] passion. He takes pains to revive topics of irritation which were overlooked by both sides in the Congressional debate. While the abuse of Mr Blaine leaves Hill's tirades altogether in the shade. He declares that there is no consideration which makes it desirable to him to [illegible] amnesty bill. [illegible] for the country, therefore, [illegible] that Congress recently was engaged in an effort to force a pardon upon a man who spurned it—whose lordly pride permits him to ask no favor of the Government he was unable to ruin. His mind is still full of the enmities and resentments of the war period. Let him rest then with the enjoyment of the protection and rights of ordinary American citizenship, [illegible] holding of office to the time when his head shall be cooler and his heart become truer to the claims of genuine allegiance. As to his complaints of his own ill treatment as a prisoner, let him take his own words to himself that prisoners are prone to exaggerate their sufferings. [illegible] remember that when he takes half of the [illegible] the Union prisoners whose [illegible] and crippled condition still proclaims what they have undergone, he should at least [illegible] his own case by his own rules.

NEW MAGAZINES.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE for February contains sixty five illustrations in an exceedingly interesting variety of reading matter. The opening illustrated paper on Lyme treats not only of a town interesting as being the birthplace of the present Chief Justice of the United States, but of a region celebrated for the [illegible] Cromwell [illegible] and several English noblemen. The article carries us back over two centuries and is full of stirring gossip, humor, and romance. Porte Crayon's Confessions of a Candidate with twenty characteristic illustrates some humorous features of district politics in the Hill country of Virginia. Vassar College by [illegible] is an intelligent description [illegible] favorable of a representative female college. It shows how the girls live [illegible] as how and in the study, and the illustrations of which there are fourteen are the result of a happy selection of [illegible]. The number contains two biographical sketches both illustrated—one of the late Dr John Todd and the other of the Hon Alexander H Stephens [illegible] contributed by George Cary Eggleston and that on Mr Stephens from the pen of Henry W Cleveland [illegible] his private secretary. Mrs Mary [illegible] contributes some [illegible] to [illegible] concerning the value of the [illegible] after [illegible] result from that [illegible] by Mr Darwin [illegible] In the First Century Series Edwin P. Whipple contributes the first of two papers on American Literature. The author [illegible] of the article is a sufficient indication of its importance and interest. The especially novel feature of this number is the first [illegible] of George Eliot's new novel, Daniel Deronda—a story of English life. Julian Hawthorne continues the successive installments of Garth—the most important novel and [illegible] taken thus far by the most promising of American novelists. Two excellent short stories are contributed to this number—Poor Mary A[illegible], a touching Irish story by Rose Terry Cooke, and My Georgie, by Henrietta H Holdich. The poetry of the number is contributed by [illegible] W R Wallace, Harvey, and Adel B Beddington. The Editorial Departments admirably cover their respective fields of social gossip, literary criticism, scientific information, current history and anecdote. Harper & Brothers Publishers. For sale at Bugbee's.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY for February is a number of great excellence and contains much that is specially interesting to the reader, while all the matter is seasonable, a remark which applies to the issues of the magazine at all times. The initial article by Elizabeth Stuart Phelps is entitled The Confession of St Augustine. Charles A Dehny contributes Mammat [illegible] and Mark Twain presents for consideration A Literary Nightmare, which is a very pleasant sketch but not in the writer's best vein. The Unseen World I, Old Woman's Gossip, VII, The Railroad Death Rate, by Charles Francis Adams, Jr and the Currency Conflict by James A Garfield, are matters of more than usual interest to the average magazine reader. The poetry of the number consists of the following pieces: Phidias to Pericles, by W. W. Story, Jacques Jasmen's Franconette, by Harriet W. Prescott, To-morrow, by Edgar Fawcett, and Boston, by Ralph Waldo Emerson. The departments devoted to Recent Literature, Art, Music and Education are as usual full of valuable and interesting matter. FORTY-FOURTH CONGRESS—First Session

Senate

WASHINGTON [illegible]

A number of House bills were referred to appropriate committees [illegible] a bill making an appropriation to [illegible] crippled and disabled Union soldiers from Dec [illegible]th 1873 to June 30th 1876

Mr Sherman from the Finance Committee reported adversely on the bill [illegible] depositors in the Freedmen's Bank from ultimate loss Tabled

Mr Wright from the Finance Committee reported a bill to pay the First National Bank of St Albans [illegible] the value of certain Treasury notes held by said bank as the financial agent of the United States and forcibly taken therefrom by raiders from Canada in 1864 His bill proposes to pay said bank $[illegible]

The Committee on Finance proposed an amendment to strike out that portion allowing interest on the amount from October 19th 1864, to the time of payment

Mr Wright asked for the present consideration of the bill

After some discussion Mr Sherman asked that it be laid over until to-morrow and it was so ordered

After the morning hour Mr Wright of Iowa moved that the Senate proceed to the consideration of executive business

Mr Morrill of Maine said that he yesterday gave notice that he would call up the Centennial bill at one o'clock to day He desired to say that whatever was the [illegible] of the Senate on this subject should be expressed at the present time The financial condition of the Company was such that the Senate should say what it proposed to do If they proposed to turn their backs on it very well He gave notice that he would urge the consideration of the bill at the earliest moment

Mr Edmunds did not think the Centennial bill should be considered till the information called for from the Secretary of State was received He however would not oppose the present consideration of the bill

The Senate by yeas 18 nays 30 refused to go into executive session

On motion of Mr Morrill the Senate then took up the Centennial bill and he yielded the floor to Mr. Eaton of Connecticut who offered a resolution in respect to the memory of his late colleague O S Ferry the understanding being that the Centennial bill should come up as unfinished business to-morrow

Mr Cooper of Tennessee was appointed a member of the Senate Committee on Finance in place of Mr Ferry who at his own request was excused this morning from further service on that Committee as it conflicted with the requirements of a presiding officer

Bill repealing certain restrictions on the disposition of public lands in Mississippi Alabama, Arkansas and Florida with an amendment was discussed without action till the expiration of the morning hour.

Mr Eaton submitted a resolution providing as a mark of respect to the memory of O S Ferry late Senator from Connecticut the business of the Senate be suspended that his former associates might pay their tribute of respect to his character and services Agreed to Appropriate eulogistic remarks were made by Messrs Eaton Sargent, Bayard, Howe, Frelinghuysen, Thurman Wadleigh and English and as a further mark of respect the Senate at two o'clock adjourned.

House

The bill authorizing that actions in case of death resulting from wrongful act neglect or default in the District of Columbia, providing that the amount received should not be above $10,000, was passed.

Mr Hunton of Va., from the Judiciary Committee reported a bill to amend sec. 850 R S by adding the following: "In the adjustment of the accounts of said officers appeal shall be from the decision of the accounting officers of the Treasury to the Attorney General, whose determination shall be final." Passed Bills introduced repealing the bankrupt act. The first section repeals the bankrupt act of March 2, 1867 and all laws and parts of laws amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto The second section provides that all suits and processes now pending in the United States Courts where an adjudication in Bankruptcy has been made shall be proceeded with and be governed by provisions of the existing laws which are continued in force only for the purpose of closing up the suits and processes now pending. The act is to take effect from and after Jan 1st 1877 After some discussion of technical points the bill was passed 178 to 85. After the passage of the bill it was discovered that there was an error in its recital, the date of the original law being given as the 2nd instead of the 21st of March Mr Lynde of Wis., asked unanimous consent to have this corrected but Mr Kasson of Iowa objected remarking that the bill placed the whole creditor class of the country in the power of the debtor class. This bill therefore goes to the Senate with that mistake in it.

CONSUMPTIVES, TAKE NOTICE.—Every moment of delay makes your cure more hopeless and much depends on the judicious choice of a remedy. The amount of testimony in favor of Dr Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup as a cure for consumption, far exceeds all that can be brought to support the pretensions of any other medicine See Dr. Schenck's Almanac, containing the certificates of many persons of the highest respectability, who have been restored to health, after being pronounced incurable by physicians of acknowledged ability. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup alone has cured many, as these evidences will show, but the cure is often promoted by the employment of two other remedies which Dr. Schenck provides for the purpose. These additional remedies are Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills. By the timely use of these medicines, according to directions, Dr Schenck certifies that most any case of Consumption may be cured Dr. Schenck is professionally at his principal office, Corner Sixth and Arch Sts, Philadelphia, every Monday, where all letters for advice must be addressed.

GREAT SUCCESS OF DR. LIGHTHILL IN BANGOR.

BANGOR, Feb. 4th, 1876

Having been cured of Deafness and noises in my head by Dr. Carl H. Lighthill, I would in this way tender my sincere and heartfelt thanks to him, and I hope that those who are afflicted as I have been will avail themselves of the Doctor's skill. I am 56 years of age, reside on Carroll st, Bangor, and have been afflicted more or less for fifteen years; but now, thanks to Dr. Lighthill, can hear perfectly and have no more noises in my head.

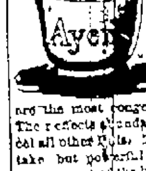
Ayer's Cathartic Pills

For all the purposes of a Family Physic



CURING

are the most congenial purgative yet perfected The effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take but powerful to cure They purge out the foul humors of the blood they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action, and they impart health and tone to the whole being They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases Most skilful physicians most eminent clergymen and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed and of great benefits they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual Being sugar coated, they are easy to take, and being purely vegetable they are entirely harmless

A Welcome in Every Family Circle.

To advertisers our columns open one of the best fields in New England, our circulation being the largest of any paper in this section among the best classes of the people.

THE ONLY MORNING DAILY

East of the Kennebec,

our Daily issue affords the principal medium of communication with a large and constantly increasing number of readers throughout Central and Eastern Maine.

OUR WEEKLY

is also the largest and best Weekly Newspaper in the State. Every number accompanied by a two-page Supplement, making a paper of FORTY-EIGHT columns, or one-half larger than any other Weekly. It is a standard publication with large and constantly increasing circulation among the most intelligent and thrifty of the population of Eastern Maine, and the small space devoted to advertising is eagerly sought by the best class of patrons.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE

For 1876.

New subscribers remitting the full price for either paper for one year will receive the copies from date of subscription to the 1st of January, 1876, in addition to the complete issues to January 1, 1877.

TERMS—Invariably in Advance:

Daily—$8 per annum; $4 for 6 mos; $2 for 3 mos.
Weekly—$2 per annum, $1 for 6 mos, 50c 3 mos.

The new postal law compelling prepayment of postage, imposes a heavy burden on the publishers, but we have decided to make no advance upon our established subscription price, and will send the paper

POSTAGE FREE,

Making a saving of $1 20 per annum for each of our Daily, and 20 cents per annum to each of our Weekly subscribers.

CLUBBING WITH MAGAZINES.

Subscribers will be furnished with either our Daily or Weekly paper and any of the favorite Periodicals or Magazines at their lowest Club rates.

In offering these advantageous terms we hope to be sustained by a liberal patronage.
